WHY THIS PROGRAMME?

Urban Co-operative Banks (UCBs) occupy a unique position in the banking sector in view of their being at the base level in the 3-tier co-operative structure in India and being subjected to dual control. Heterogeneity too is a striking characteristic feature of the UCB structure. Ever since March 01, 1966 when UCBs were brought under the provisions of the Banking Regulation Act 1949, there has been a phenomenal growth in the UCB sector in terms of number of banks, volume of banking business and geographical outreach. As the UCBs are operating in those areas characterised with the presence of mightier banks in terms of technology, financials, management and governance, UCBs are in an unenviable position. In view of the fact that UCBs are catering to a huge chunk of urban clientele, it is incumbent on the Directors who are the decision makers in their respective banks to get themselves armed with the latest information about risk management, investment management, asset liability management, credit management, good customer service, etc. This will help in percolating better banking management and practices down the line and put the UCBs in better stead to face competition. The programme has been designed solely keeping in view the training requirements of the Directors of UCBs.
